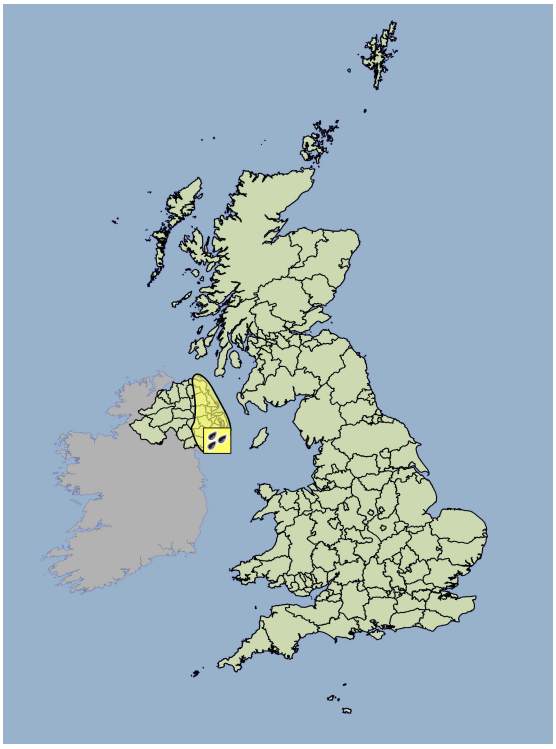
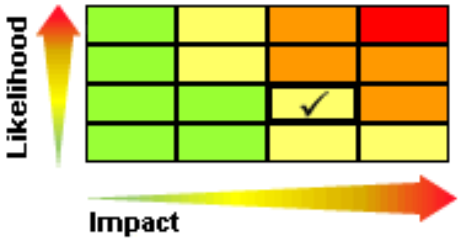
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An active frontal system will move east across Northern Ireland during Thursday and early Friday morning. Rainfall totals, especially in the east, may reach 25-50 mm in some locations, particularly over high ground. This will also include some short spells of heavy rain which could produce 20 mm within a few hours at low levels too, notably later Thursday afternoon and again early Friday morning.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 12:00 on Thu, 06th Nov 2014 until 08:00 on Fri, 07th Nov 2014

Bands of rain will move east across Northern Ireland during Thursday and early Friday. Some of the rain will be heavy, notably during Thursday afternoon and also for the first part of Friday in the east.

The public should be aware of the risk of localised flooding.
